A Romantic Trek From The Land of The Midnight Sun Through The Heart Of Asia, The Fantastic Land of Mongolia, And Mysterious Thibet To Shanghai.

XVI—MONGOLIAN LAMAS

By Larry Lehrbas

If Jenghiz Khan, the great conqueror, were suddenly to return to his people today, he would be right in style, for the Mongolians of today dress practically the same as they did hundreds of years ago when they rode forth to conquer the world under his yak-tail banners. They are just as dirty, or perhaps a little more so because of the intervening centuries, and their habits have continued practically unchanged down through the dim vista of years.

Mrs. Jenghiz would also be able to step right out and lead the grand march at the home-coming ball for while her 'civilised' sisters have been following the dictates of Paris from whoop-skirts to baloon-skirts, pantellettes, bustles, leg-o'-mutton, long trains, hobble-skirts, X-Ray skirts, short skirts and back to long skirts again the Mongolian belles have continued to have the family dress-maker make up their Spring, Summer, Fall and Winter 'gowns' out of the same old sheepskins and in the same old style and cut.

The only change Jenghis Khan would find would be in the moral strength of his people. From the wild, barbaric, two-fisted men and women they were in the thirteenth century they have degenerated into peace-at-any-price's, completely under the domination of the Lamas, held in bondage by crude superstitions, and hardly able to call their souls their own because of the humbuggery practiced upon them by the heretical priests of their fantastic faith. In the time of Jhengiz Khan the tribes of Mongolia and Tibet were Buddhists and Shammanists, the Buddhism an introduction from India, and the Shammanism a mystic, fantastic form of worship still practiced to some extent among the primitive peoples along the Siberian-Mongolian border. Today they are Lamaists.

DEGRADED BUDDHISM

For several hundred years Buddhism in Tibet and Mongolia prospered, and then, after the death of Jenghiz Khan and the succession of his grandson, the famous Kublai Khan, a branch of degraded Buddhism which had grown up in Tibet began securing a hold over the people. Kublai Khan himself became a convert to the corrupt form of Buddhism and in time the lamas secured domination over the peoples of both countries—a domination which increased in power with the years until today both Tibet and Mongolia are held fast in the grasp of Lamaism, religiously and politically.

Today the Dalai Lama the everlasting king, rules supreme in his secret citadel at Lhassa, the roof of the world, and "On mane padme hum," the Lama prayer is heard in every yurt across the wide spaces of Tibet and Mongolia, an undying prayer as it is repeated somewhere over the two countries every second.

In Tibet the Dalai Lama is supreme alone. In Mongolia his powers are delegated to the Hu'tuk'tu—"he who lives again," the Living Buddha who dwells in the mystic palace in the shadow of the sacred mountain at Urga. All Mongolians and all Tibetans pay homage to the Dalai Lama, and a pilgrimage to

H'KONG TO HAVE RADIO POSITION FINDER SHORTLY

Marconi Expert Installing Plant To Aid Shipping

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Oct. 27.—Mr. A. G. M. Fletcher, the Assistant Colonial Secretary, on behalf of the Government replying to questions raised by the members of the Legislative Council yesterday stated that an expert from the Marconi Company was now installing a position-finder which should be ready next month. It would have a radius of 80 miles from the Colony. The Government fully endorsed the policy of maintaining constant touch with neighboring observatories and was alive to the necessity of keeping the observatory efficient and up-to-date.

Hongkong, Oct. 26.—Speaking in the Legislative Council today Mr. E. V. D. Parr (Unofficial Member and partner in the firm of Messrs. Mackinnon, Mackenzie and Co.) stated that members of the shipping community with whom he had consulted said that wireless position-finders were a necessity. He hoped that when Hongkong set the example the Chinese Maritime Customs would follow suit by erecting similar wireless position-finders along the coast.

Mr. Parr suggested that the Director of the Observatory would be well-advised to visit the observatories at Siccawei and Manila to compare notes. They would possibly benefit the Colony by their experiences.

Mr. Parr also voiced as the opinion of all right-thinking men and women of the Colony that the Government should take immediate steps to bring all labor guilds, unions and such like associations in Hongkong under stricter control.

The senior Chinese Unofficial Member endorsed Mr. Parr's remarks regarding labor guilds and unions. He considered that unscrupulous persons should not be allowed to trade upon the credulity and ignorance of simple laborers.

Mr. A. O. Lang observed that there was a general feeling that the Observatory and its system of recording storms and conveying information to shipping was not all that should be. He stated that certain recent events appeared to have created a lack of confidence, possibly unjustifiably, in the Observatory and its present system of recording typhoons and, as a result, a very full report dealing with the subject had been forwarded to the Government by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber suggested certain procedure with regard to an investigation in order to ascertain whether the Colony was being served with the best available meteorological and wireless broadcasting systems or whether the present arrangements were adequate in view of the important interests involved.

It was hoped, Mr. Lang concluded, that the suggestions put forward would in the main be acceptable to the Government.

Postal Commissioner Tells Why Mailing Costs In China Have Had To Be Increased

Critics Of Tariff That Becomes Effective Next Month Are Answered By Official Who Gives Insight In Conditions That Have Arisen

In view of the recent criticism appearing in the press following the announcement of the new Chinese Postal Tariff, which goes into effect next month, the Postal Commissioner has issued a statement explaining the reasons for the introduction of the new scale. The statement follows:

During the past few years many factors have combined to add abnormally to the running expenses of the Chinese Post Office. The high cost of living has necessitated very considerable increases for staff salaries, increases amounting in certain cases to over 50 percent. The cost of transport has been steadily rising for several years, as has also that of all material and supplies.

To take one example alone, it may be pointed out that the paper for stamp printing now costs four times the pre-war price.

The Postal Administrations of other countries where similar economic conditions prevail have, in most cases, long since revised their domestic postage rates—and also raised their International postage rates as soon as the Universal Postal Union Conference of Madrid permitted—in order to meet increased expenditure. China, on the other hand, has delayed the step for more than a year in the hope of better times, but it is found to be no longer possible. The following tariff changes (for the letter unit of weight) in Union countries, where there is no question of foreign postal agencies, are typical of the general increase, and the rates for other categories of mail matter have been raised more or less proportionately:

	Convention of Rome.	Convention of Madrid.
Norway	20 ore	40 ore
Denmark	20 ore	40 ore
Sweden	20 ore	40 ore
Holland	12½ cts.	20 cts.
Great Britain	2½ d.	3 d.
France	25 ctms.	50 ctms.
Brazil	200 reis	400 reis
Canada	5 cts.	10 cts.
Australia	2½ d.	4 d.
India	2½ annas	3 annas
Japan	10 sen	20 sen
Mexico	10 ctvs.	20 ctvs.
Switzerland	25 ctms.	40 ctms.

With reference to the tariff of postage to Japan which has not yet been altered, it may be pointed out for general information that the raising of the tariff is under negotiation by a special Sino-Japanese Postal Committee now sitting, and that the rates contemplated—which will shortly come into force—will be equal at least to the Chinese domestic rates of postage.

The Service is still in its adolescence and is largely housed in rented property; consequently it has suffered greatly by the enormous general increase in rents. The Service revenue is in silver and while a progressive proportion of it has, in the past few years, gone to meet the enhanced charges for salaries and wages, domestic transport, material and supplies, the Union transit charges, which were raised at the Madrid Congress, and which are gold payments, absorb a much larger proportion of the revenue—practically three times as much as formerly—quite apart from the question of unfavorable exchange. This is a particularly serious item for China which has no international transport facilities of her own.

Such, in brief outline, is the position of the Postal Administration, which desires it to be realised that in the changes it has been compelled to introduce, the question of the withdrawal of foreign postal agencies has no part.

KOKUMINTOS IN JAPAN DRAW UP NEW PLATFORM

Favor Universal Suffrage And Closer Relations With China

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Oct. 27.—The Kakushin Club, recently organised by Mr. Inugai, former President of the Kokuminto Party, yesterday held a committee-meeting with the object of drafting its provisional platform, at which the following principles were decided upon:

(1) The key-note of home administration shall be to effect the stability of the national life and to settle the basis of the policy of industrialism.

(2) Diplomacy shall be based on the people's diplomacy according to international justice in order that economic expansion may be brought about.

(3) Universal suffrage shall be decisively enforced forthwith with a view to settling the basis of Constitutional Government.

At the meeting, the Kakushin Club also decided upon its policy, the gist of which is as follows:

(1) That the restriction on the qualification for the Ministers of the Navy and War shall be abolished.

(2) That the Navy shall carry out its thorough readjustment in accordance with the Washington Treaty.

(3) That prefectural Governors shall be elected by the people.

(4) That the economic relations with China shall be more closely tightened.

(5) That a commercial pact with Soviet Russia shall be concluded without delay.

Francs Decline, Paris Alarmed

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 26.—French francs depreciated today to 64.70 to £1 as the result of general selling due to the recent collapse of marks, and also to the state of French finances. Belgian francs also depreciated to 69.70 to £1. Marks are steady at 19,600.

The fall in the value of the franc is causing alarm at Paris where the sudden visit of the Reparations Commission to Berlin is regarded as a forlorn hope. The view is beginning to find expression that the British Government will devise a plan for saving Germany and freeing France from her entanglement in Germany's downfall.

That the reparations discussions will be transferred permanently to Berlin, which is the British view, appears likely from an announcement in Berlin that the German Government has invited a number of foreign financial experts to visit Berlin and discuss measures for the stabilisation of the mark. Among those invited are Mr. J. M. Keynes (Britain), Mr. Cassel (Sweden), Messrs. Vissering and Termeulen (Holland), Professor Jenks of New York and Mr. V. C. Potter, of the American Guaranty Trust Company.

Peking Legations Get Memorandum On Mixed Court

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, October 27.—The Waichiaopu yesterday sent a communication to the Diplomatic Body proposing modification of the Mixed Court regime in Shanghai based on the so-called five original points with certain modifications.

The original points were contained in written communications sent to Sir John Jordan, then British Minister and Doyen of the Diplomatic Body, in 1913 and 1914, which Dr. W. W. Yen reiterated verbally to Senhor de Freitas, Portuguese Minister and Doyen, in 1921.

It is asserted that the Waichiaopu's action is now taken in response to strong representations made by Chinese merchants in Shanghai supported by certain foreigners, including Germans.

SHERWOOD EDDY WILL BE HERE NOVEMBER 25-9

Two Mass Meetings Planned For Noted Y.M.C.A. Man, Nov. 26

The Y. M. C. A. announces that Dr. George Sherwood Eddy, [illegible] his fifth visit to China, is to be in Shanghai from Nov. 25 to 29. Dr. Eddy is best known in this country for the large meetings of students held at different times, meetings from which many of the Christian leaders of this country date the beginning of their active faith in the Christian religion.

The plans for Dr. Eddy's meetings in Shanghai are now being made. He will address various groups of students and Y. M. C. A. members. There will be two public meetings on Sunday, Nov. 26—one at 5 o'clock in the English language and the second at 8 o'clock through interpretation. He will also hold several student meetings.

The main interest of Dr. Eddy on this visit to China is in connection with the modern industrial situation. This is a subject which Dr. Eddy has given much attention during the past few years not only in America but in Great Britain as well. In this study he has not only given time to study of books, but also to personal investigations and to conferences with employers and employes in the countries named. He comes to China as a student of these conditions in this part of the world. Arrangements are being made for him to meet with employers and employes in Shanghai and learn at first hand the conditions here.

Paris, Sept. 29.—Ex-King Constantine is in no danger of being reduced to the penury which embittered the last days of former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary, according to Greek circles in Paris.

It is asserted that Constantine took precautions against this long ago and has 10,000,000 gold francs ($4,000,000) in safe investments, deposited partly in New York, Brazil and Switzerland.

In addition, as soon as the situation in Greece became disquieting, the magnificent jewels of Queen Sophie and the royal household plate were shipped off to Zurich, Switzerland, in charge of a trusted friend and safely deposited in the vault of a bank there.

SUPPRESSION OF 'LITTLE HSU' IS ORDERED BY LI

Presidential Mandate Once More Outlaws Anfuite In Foochow

A presidential mandate on Wednesday ordered Li Hou-chi, former Tuchun of Fukien, Admiral San Chen-ping, Civil Governor of Fokien and Kao Chuan-chung, brigade-commander, to conduct a punitive expedition against Little Hsu, who has set up a military government in the province "for National Reconstruction." The order classified Little Hsu as a "fleeing outlaw."

Only Kao is expected to take an active part in the suppression of Hsu, since Li has already left Foochow for Shanghai, while Admiral Sah's attitude towards Li has been anything but friendly. Li it will be remembered, strenuously opposed Admiral Sah when the latter tried to assume his office as High Opium Suppression Commissioner for Fukien.

The Local Fukien Guild will hold an extraordinary meeting tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock to protest against the appointment of Li Hou-chi as head of the expedition against Little Hsu. Circulars announcing the meeting were distributed last night. They also denounced Li's administration in Fokien for the last ten years.

(Dah Tong News Bureau)

Foochow, Oct. 27.—The commander of the cruiser Haiyung has notified the General Command of the Reconstruction Army that they have transferred General Li Houchi, the former Tuchun of Fukien, to a Japanese vessel and ordered his departure for Shanghai.

Amoy, Oct. 27.—Gen. Chwang Tz-ping is gradually taking over the troops of the 2nd Division, but Col. Kao Chuan-ching has not yet signified his stand.

The Fukien section of the Navy has telegraphed to the Government stating that, as a result of conferences with various parties in Foochow, it has been decided to allow Gen. Li Hou-chi to leave Fukien. By this action, it is understood that the Navy has no intention of supporting Li in case he should try to regain his lost laurels.

Gen. Chen Plans Attack On Foochow

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 27.—It is reported from Fukien that General Chen Chiung-ming has arranged with General Kao Chuan-chung that the latter's Command shall form the front line in the projected movement against Foochow, with General Chen and 12,000 Kwangtung troops supporting it. General Tsai Cheng-hsun is expected to co-operate from Kiangsi with two Divisions and Admiral Tu Hsi-kuei has been ordered to proceed to Foochow with a landing force of marines. It is expected that the operations against Foochow will begin very soon.

BONAR LAW, IN HIS 'KEYNOTE,' IS ADVOCATE OF NEGATION

Big Need Of The Nation Is To Recover From War

BIG CROWD HEARS

Thinks Unemployed Should Be Sent To Colonies

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 26.—Mr. Bonar Law, addressing a great demonstration at Glasgow, based his speech almost entirely on the manifesto cabled earlier. In elaborating his policy he said that it would be a negative one because he believed that the need of the country was to recover from the effects of the war and be left to work out her own salvation. The most pressing thing in foreign policy was the Near East question but he believed that if Britain, France and Italy would reach an agreement there would be no danger of the Greeks and the Turks declining to accept. Reparations was the greatest foreign problem. British and French aims in that connection did not differ except only on the opinion with regard to the best way of arriving at the result. Mr. Bonar Law declared that he did not want to make Gallipoli and the Straits a second Gibraltar. He foreshadowed the abolition of the Ministry of Pensions. Dealing with the proposal to develop inter-Imperial trade, Mr. Bonar Law said that the Government could imagine nothing better than settling suitable numbers of the unemployed overseas.

London, Oct. 26.—Mr. Bonar Law was today unanimously adopted as Conservative candidate for the Central Division of Glasgow.

In the course of a speech Mr. Bonar Law declared that the nation needed above everything rest and tranquility and his policy would in that sense be negative.

It did not mean that they were going into the fight with any bitterness whatever. They were going in with the desire to win the election for the Party and on that he was confident.

Mr. Bonar Law issued a manifesto to his constituents today in which he declared that he considered that it was most important to return as speedily as possible to the most complete pre-war procedure.

The time had come to change the machinery of the Central Government. The work of the Cabinet Secretariat in connection with the Treasury must be continued but the Secretariat in its present form must be ended.

Instruction had already been given for the transfer of the machinery in connection with the League of Nations to the Foreign Office. With regard to any future International conference, even where it was necessary for the Prime Minister to attend, the machinery of the conferences would be performed by the Foreign Office and not the Cabinet Secretariat.

The first foreign interest of the Empire was the re-establishment of peace. The Government in its foreign relations would pursue an even course, loyally fulfilling its obligations but resolutely determined not to extend its commitments and to curtail them should a reasonable occasion arise.

Only by frank and full co-operation, similar to that during the war, with France and our other great allies could we hope to solve the difficult problems with which we were confronted.

Mr. Bonar Law declared that he hoped that under the well-tried guidance of the Foreign Secretary, Earl Curzon, the negotiations for the settlement of the near Eastern crisis would result in a true and lasting peace. It would be his earnest aim to give the League of Nations his wholehearted and practical support.

The maintenance of our friendship and good understanding with the United States was based not on a formal alliance but upon community of inherited ideals and our recent comradeship in arms and must always be the principal aim of British policy.

"Above all," Mr. Law said, "we mean, in all matters affecting our external policy and the security of the Empire to act in close and continuous consultation with the Governments of the Dominions and India in order to ensure that our policy shall keep fully in view both the interests and sentiments of our fellow subjects overseas and that at all times we have behind it the moral support of the whole British Commonwealth.

"The first task if we are returned to power, will be the ratification of the Irish Treaty. We are prepared to take part in making good the Treaty both in letter and spirit. We will co-operate with the Irish Government in the new relationship within the Empire that the Treaty has created.

We are equally pledged to safeguard the freedom of choice, and security of Parliament and the Government of North Ireland.

We desire to promote a quiet and orderly development of India under the Constitution conferred by the Act of 1919.

Our chief preoccupation at home will be the state of trade and unemployment. The plans which were being considered by the late Government will be again examined with a view to possible improvements and immediate action.

"A real recovery, however, is dependent upon the revival of trade. The first essential is the reduction of expenditure and relief from taxation which is clogging the wheels of industry. The most helpful method of reviving industry is the development of inter-Imperial trade.

We therefore propose immediately to consult the Governments of the self-governing Dominions and if they approve, summon at the earliest possible moment an economic conference with a view to finding how, by mutual co-operation, we may best develop the vast trade of which, in my opinion, the resources of the Empire admit."

Referring to the serious condition of agriculture Mr. Bonar Law said that the Government immediately would examine the problem again in the hope of making proposals which would help the agricultural community in overcoming their difficulties.

Finally, Mr. Bonar Law said that he had not recommended other desirable measures because the Nation's first need is to get on with its own work with the minimum interference at home and disturbance abroad.

Sir Alfred Mond Proposes Big Loan To Help Colonies

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 27.—Some particulars of Sir Alfred Mond's empire development scheme, which, according to Mr. Lloyd George, would have been submitted to Parliament had he continued in office, have now been published.

Sir Alfred Mond expressed the opinion that the best chance for building up trade lay within the Empire. The essence of his scheme was the promotion of a loan of from £50,000,000 to £100,000,000, to be guaranteed by the Imperial Government, the proceeds of which would be utilised to enable the Colonies, especially the African possessions, including those acquired from Germany, to develop their resources more completely than at present by the construction of roads, railways and harbors. Work would thereby be found for a portion of the million unemployed in Britain, whose support was costing nearly £100,000,000 annually.

Dr. Sze Coming Home On Leave

(China Press Service)

Washington, Oct. 27.—Dr. Sao-Ke Alfred Sze, the Chinese Minister to the United States, paid a farewell call on President Harding today preparatory to his leaving for a six months' visit to China. Dr. Sze declined to give out an interview on rumors that he may not return to Washington.

Dr. Sze is returning to China for the first time in several years. Rumors have been current that he would remain in China, probably as a cabinet member under the new government, and that another Minister to Washington would be appointed.

Youth And Beauty

CLAUDIA SPAMPANAYA
(At the Del Monte)

MISS Spampanaya is one of the excellent company of singers and dancers that just now is delighting the patrons of the Del Monte cafe. Her specialty is a "Cossack" dance, which she performs with wonderful grace. Miss Spampanaya is only sixteen years old, by reason of which fact she imparts a dash and freshness to her dance that is beautiful to watch. In some of the wild moments of the dance, when from the fury of her efforts her great fur shako is dislodged, letting her shock of bobbed hair loose, she is the very incarnation of the Cossack spirit, racing wildly across the great Russian steppes.

Miss Spampanaya is one of the fine company of dancers and singers brought to the Del Monte by Mr. Hamilton for the really fine show that is a nightly attraction at the popular cafe. The Sensational Russian Ballet, which is put on every night at 1 o'clock, is one of the best shows of its kind ever seen in Shanghai and well deserves the great popularity it has achieved. The costuming is good, the music is catchy and the girls are nimble and pretty.

THREE BRANCHES OF WORKERS HERE THREATEN STRIKE

Three strikes are impending in Shanghai at the present time, according to police reports. The makers of wooden frames for pigskin boxes have threatened to strike unless they are given an increase in wages of 50 percent. The employers have offered them a 10 percent increase.

The smoking water pipe workers have threatened to strike unless they are granted an increase. At the present time they are paid 8 cents for each pipe manufactured. They demand 10 cents. Rice weighers in rice shops have also threatened to strike unless they are paid on a silver basis instead of in coppers.

The owners of large silver and gold shops have notified their striking employes that they must return to work by today.

The pamphlets which are alleged to have brought Mr. Fu into disrepute were widely circulated. At the time the Seaman's Union denied having had anything to do with the publication.

Yak-Tail Trails

Lhassa to catch a glimpse of the robe of the Most High Lama is as necessary for the proper reincarnation of a man's soul as is a pilgrimage to Mecca. The Mongolians also make pilgrimages to Lhassa if circumstances permit, but because of the great distance often must be content with a sight of the half-blind old Living Buddha at Urga.

Scattered about in the Lama hierarchy are numerous other lamas of high degree, each in control of the temporal and spiritual power of his own tribe or monastery and paying allegience and cumsha to the Grand Lama at Lhassa. Under them are several million lamas—red caps or yellow caps—for almost one-third of the males of Mongolia and Tibet become lamas. If a family has two sons it is customary to send one of them to a lamasary to learn the mystic rites of Lamaism when he becomes seven or eight years old. Everybody else that doesn't want to work for a living also becomes a lama, which has caused such a large group of religious leeches to grow up and fatten on the superstitions of the people that both Tibet and Mongolia are priest-ridden in the most degraded sense of the term.

THE RED ROBES

The lamas in their red robes are the most colorful touchabout Tibet and Monogolia. Because of their extremely large number hardly a division of time, however minute, passes but what one sees a lama slouching about in a small collection of yurts, in the lamasaries along the trail, or riding from yurt to yurt to collect their "squeeze."

The lamas differ from the laymen by having their heads shaved, while the workers of Mongolia still retain their ancient pig-tails, and their red robes—but that is all. They are as dirty as the general run of humankind in inner Asia, if not dirtier. Few can read or write, and being raised in the lamasaries, speak Tibetan in throaty, harsh notes with a preponderande of sounds like rolling "r's." Having the common herd completely under their thumbs by wierd rites, devil dances and other foolishness, and never yet having been caught earning anything by the sweat of their brows, the lamas have all the time in the world for playing indoor politics, at which they are past masters.

When the Dalai Lama passes on to the next reincarnation—for the Grand Lama never, never dies, but is born again in the body of an infant born as his soul takes wing—the Lamas select a child who has been born about the time he reverts to earth. Just who is to be selected is judged by visions—and reports brought back by foreign travelers relate some of the most marvelous visions within the scope of the human mind. The new born babe is installed as the Dalai Lama—in whom lives the spirit of Buddha—and the lamas have grand and glorious time for the next few years playing peanut politics with those nearest the supreme lama to see who exercises the most control and becomes the biggest frog in the pool.

The same characteristics which have given the lamas supreme control over the people of Mongolia and Tibet have also served as the keystone which has kept the Mongolians and Tibetans under the yoke of China. The Chinese, wily politicians themselves, early discovered that by playing on the susceptibilities of the lamas and cumshawing them in the correct amount they could rule both Tibet and Mongolia. China, consequently, keeps the upper hand in both countries by kidding the lamas along.

Passing through both Mongolia and Tibet, Serge and his companions in the cavalcade saw thousands of lamas, lived in the lamasaries, heard the hum of thousands of spinning prayer wheels and saw several of the strange, mystic and grotesque religious ceremonies of the people, including the Devil Dance. Their experiences will be continued in the next installment in tomorrow's CHINA PRESS.

FLAT WALL FINISH

A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges.

Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.

Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.

Hickey Forgery Trial Ends In American Court

Defendant Loaned His Check Book To Friend But Pleads Ignorance Of Wrong-Doing

Following arguments that were presented yesterday afternoon before Judge C. S. Lobingier in the United States Court for China judgment has been reserved in the case of Eugene J. Hickey, who has been held by the American Authorities with a companion, John M. Nelson, on charges of forgery.

Nelson, who pleaded guilty to the charge at a preceding hearing, was the principal witness for the Government at Hickey's trial yesterday. The prosecution was conducted by U. S. District Attorney Leonard G. Husar, who is sailing for America today, and the defense was conducted by Mr. C. S. Franklin.

In his argument yesterday District Attorney Husar sought to shatter a contention of the defense that Hickey was wholly ignorant of wrongdoing on the part of Nelson when the latter signed several checks, now admitted to be bogus.

Testimony that was given disclosed that Nelson and Hickey went together to the bar of the Continental hotel on Szechuen Road where Nelson borrowed a check book from his companion and drew a check for $39.41, which Hickey then had cashed. Later the same evening a second check was written by Nelson and was cashed by Richard Neumann.

NELSON'S TESTIMONY

U. S. District Attorney Husar called Nelson as the first witness. He testified that he made out the check to pay for several drinks at the Continental Hotel as well as to pay other chits previously signed by Hickey. He stated that he informed the accused at the time that he did not have any money in the bank, but that Hickey told him that it would be alright and that he would deposit funds due him from a Mr. O'Brien before the bank opened the following day. Nelson stated further that he made out one check, signing the name of Thompson, but Hickey told him to make out another since Thompson had had difficulty in cashing checks in Shanghai. He therefore made the check payable to Hickey and signed the name Donnely.

Hickey tried to cash the check at the bar, but learned that they had insufficient funds in the cash register so he went upstairs to the the proprietor, Dennis Chelimes, for his o.k., which was obtained forthwith.

After several more drinks Hickey and Nelson went to Neumann's Restaurant for a late dinner. By this time they had spent all the proceeds of the first check so Nelson forged another check at Hickey's suggestion which Neumann cashed. This time he signed his own name. Following dinner he stated they both went to a brothel where Hickey paid for more drinks from the proceeds of the last check cashed.

The following morning Nelson stated he took a note from Hickey to Mr. O'Brien going previously to Mr. Neumann asking him to wait before depositing the check that had been given. The latter stated that he had already deposited it. Mr. O'Brien stated that he could not advance Hickey any more funds inasmuch as he did not owe him anything. When he told Hickey of this decision Hickey, he said, gave him another note to a friend called "Tat" who kept the Broadway Butchery. Tat also refused to advance any funds. Three days later Nelson was arrested with Hickey on Chelimes' complaint.

TESTIFY FOR HICKEY

Other witnesses for the prosecution included Chelimes, "Tom" the Tailor (Chinese), Richard Neumann who substantiated in the main the testimony given by Nelson. All these said that they had known Hickey well and favorably for about three years and that this was the first time anything untoward had happened to mar their friendship with the accused.

Mr. C. S. Franklin, who defended the accused, called him to testify in his own behalf. Hickey stated that he had only met Nelson two days previously in the Astor House bar. He neither knew his name nor anything about him except what Nelson himself told. He said Nelson informed him that he was expecting a large draft through the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank and that on the night they were in the Continental Hotel asked him to loan him his checkbook, which he did as a favor.

PLEADS IGNORANCE

When he endorsed the check made out by Nelson he said that he did not know that it was a forgery, and did not even know what name Nelson signed. When he obtained the o.k. from Mr. Chelimes he merely said that he believed that the check was good.

Regarding the other check cashed by Neumann he stated that he knew nothing regarding it since during the whole transaction he was engaged in conversation with Mrs. Neumann. He denied ever writing any note to "Tat" but admitted his signature.

Judge Franklin brought out the facts in the direct examination that Hickey's record was excellent. He had served for seven years in the U. S. Navy, receiving an honorable discharge, and later worked his way up in the merchant marine obtaining a British Mate's license at Hongkong. He has been employed with several well known shipping firms both here and in Hongkong with which his record was good.

Shrine Minstrels

The Shrine Minstrels hit their real stride in last night's performance at the Olympic, all the boys having recovered from their stage fright. The show went with a swing that would have done credit to Primrose and Westa in their palmiest days.

A little and good

Here you see both sides of one

THERE is a distinguishing feature in the business of the house of HAIG & HAIG. Most Distillers have various brands of varying qualities. HAIG & HAIG have one brand only, and they claim (and the public acclaim) that it is the finest that goes from Scotland.

It is a regrettable fact that all retailers have not the same high standard of commercial honesty and it is known that cheaper brands are sometimes passed on to the public under the label of houses of high repute.

When you see a genuine bottle of HAIG & HAIG Five Stars Scots Whisky it will be the same fine quality in London, in Lucknow, or in Labrador; in the Langham Hotel, in the G.O.H. at Colombo, and in the best Clubs in Cape Town.

Haig & Haig Five Stars Scots Whisky

A second quality Haig & Haig could not be filled into a Haig & Haig bottle because there isn't a second quality.

Haig & Haig is also known easily by the fact that you pay a little extra for it.

Say HAIG & HAIG or you may get a cheaper brand substituted.

A LITTLE AND GOOD MOTTO

On the principle that "a little and good" is better for you, you can be gently stimulated by the use of Haig & Haig at no increased cost

FACTA CABINET IN ITALY QUITS; FASCISTI ACTIVE

Call Issued To All Members "With Military Service"

(Reuter's Service)

Rome, Oct. 26.—The Facta Cabinet has resigned owing to the threatening attitude of the Fascisti who demand a share in the Government and have ordered a general mobilisation of all the Fascisti detachments in Italy.

The situation, however, is regarded hopefully in Rome where it is expected that Signor Orlando or Signor Giolitti will form a Ministry.

(China Press Service)

Rome, Oct. 26.—Benito Mussolini, head of the Fascisti, has issued a call for all members of the party having military experience to prepare for co-operation at an opportune time as a preliminary to the party's assumption of power in the Government.

As no concrete demands have been made for places in the cabinet, it is feared that the Fascisti are preparing to overthrow the entire government. This fear is not allayed by the statement that the party favors the present monarchy.

It is expected that the sudden fall of the cabinet may afford opportunity for this very seizure of the government which is forecasted in Mussolini's call to arms.

ACTION AGAINST SONN BROTHERS NOT SUSTAINED

Mr. H. B. Campbell Loses Tls. 25,000 Damage Suit

In the action for Tls. 25,000 damages brought by Mr. Harry B. Campbell against Mr. Henry Gruenbaum and Sonn Brothers Import and Export Co., Inc., Judge Charles S. Lobingier of the United States Court for China in a decision handed down yesterday found in favor of the defendants, allowing them to recover the costs of the action.

In giving judgment Judge Lobingier reviewed the case at length, holding that the evidence was insufficient to show actionable damage. Mr. Campbell was engaged to act as manager of the Shanghai office of the defendant company on April 1, 1922 and served for one month, after which the agreement was terminated.

Attorneys in the case were Mr. C. S. Franklin, for the plaintiff, and Mr. F. J. Schuhl, for the defendant.

A mafoo employed by Mrs. Woo, wife of the Chinese Consul to Singapore, was fined $7 in the Mixed Court yesterday for negligent driving on Bubbling Well Road on October 17, when he knocked Miss Kovachevich, 29 Medhurst Road, out of a ricsha and injured her.

Mr. Davies appeared for the complainant and Mr. Shoenfeld for the defendant. The complainant testified that Mrs. Woo came to the hospital to visit her and promised to pay her medical and hospital bills, but afterward refused to do so.

The Court, in convicting the mafoo, said there was no doubt that the driver had been negligent.

State Receives $350,000 From Boxing In New York

The New York State Boxing Commission has turned over to the State more than $350,000 over its own operating expenses in the last eighteen months, George K. Morris, of the commission, reported recently.

Morris thinks the commission has in the same period established its supremacy as the most active body attempting to govern boxing in the United States. He points out that other State commissions often defer to the decisions of the New York body.

FURTHER HEARING IN MACK CASE SET FOR TODAY

Evidence of another Chinese witness, a delivery coolie, was taken before Magistrate G. W. King of the British Police Court yesterday in the case of A. C. Mack charged by Mr. A. Giesel with theft of liquors and forgery of trade marks.

The coolie testified to taking 10 barrels of liquor to the home of Mr. Mack's mother in Tongshan Road and after his cross-examination had been completed by Mr Tycho Wing, Mr. P. W. Goldring for the prosecution, stated that a second witness, a godown keeper had failed to turn up. He was about ready to close the case for the prosecution he stated, and the French legal adviser of his client was trying to obtain the release of certain exhibits and documents from the French Court.

Before adjourning the case Magistrate King asked Mr. Goldring if anything had been done by Mr. Giesel in the meeting of certain monies due from him yesterday. Mr. Goldring said that the matter had been arranged, in both the criminal and the civil cases.

The hearing will be resumed today.

German Political Crisis Averted

(China Press Service)

Berlin, Oct. 26.—The German political crisis has been temporarily overcome. The German financial advisers modified their position at the eleventh hour regarding the current prices of grain and stated that foreign letters of exchange will be made effective as a means of financial intercourse.

In order to stabilise the mark the German chancellor has appointed a joint committee of German and foreign financial experts. The future coalition of various factions in the government will depend to a large extent on measures adopted by them.

Several foreign experts have been invited to meet with this body and offer suggestions regarding proposed changes in the budget to ameliorate living conditions. Among the latter are Dr. Cressel, President of the Bank of the Netherlands, Professor Keynes the great English economist, and Professor Jeremiah Jenks of Columbia University, who served on the Reparations commission.

It is anticipated that the committee from the International Reparations meeting at present in Paris will arrive in Berlin to examine the plan suggested by Sir John Bradbury.

Chinese Want Radio Plant At Sinkiang

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Oct. 23.—The Peking Government is reported to have received a telegram from General Yang Tsenghain, Military Governor of Sinkiang, Chinese Turkestan, asking it to take over the wireless station built there by the Russians.

Since the fall of the Imperial Government of Russia, this wireless plant has been in the hands of the Chinese. During these three years, the Local Sinkiang Government has been advancing operating fees and in all has put more than $600,000 into the project.

Therefore, the Governor suggests that Peking make this wireless plant one of the questions to be discussed with M. Yoffe in the coming Sino-Russian Conference.

Apparently the only question would be the providing of funds by the Chinese Government to reimburse the Russian builders.

Discharge Is Refused In Thompson Bankruptcy Case

Application was refused by Judge Peter Grain in the British Supreme Court yesterday in the case of Mr. A. E. S. Thompson, who asked for discharge from bankruptcy.

The application was opposed by Mr. Dickson, the official receiver, and Mr. G. H. Wright, counsel for Messrs. Morrison and Company, of London, on the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, the two largest creditors. Mr. R. G. Macdonald made the application on behalf of the bankrupt.

The text of the judgment follows:

The Bankrupt Alfred Eric Sheppard Thompson now applies for his discharge, he having been adjudicated bankrupt in April 1921. The Official Receiver in Bankruptcy opposes the application and it is also opposed by certain creditors namely The Hongkong & Shanghai Bank and Messrs. James Morrison & Co., Ltd. The bankrupt's statement of affairs disclosed liabilities Tls. 448,698.38 and assets estimated at Tls. 29,184.80, leaving a deficiency of Tls. 419,513.58. The Trustee has admitted proofs of debts amounting to about Tls. 767,325.06. The assets will realise about Tls. 17,000. So that the present deficiency is at least Tls. 749,825.06. The dividend which appears likely to be paid is no more than 2½d. in the £ sterling i.e. $0.01 in the $.

The Official Receiver opposes the application on the ground. (a) Assets not of the value of 10s. in £ sterling. (b) Bankrupt omitted to keep books in a manner sufficient to disclose his business transactions and financial position within the three years previous to his Bankruptcy. (c) Unjustifiable extravagance in living. (d) That he had within 3 months previous to his bankruptcy given undue preference to one of his creditors.

The two creditors oppose the application on the ground (1) That bankrupt had continued to trade after knowing himself to be insolvent. (2) That he had contributed to his bankruptcy by rash and hazardous speculation and culpable neglect of his business affairs. The amount owing to the Hongkong & Shanghai Bank is about Tls. 9684.20 and to Messrs. Morrison & Co. Tls. 1,000,000 at least. The Court in considering the application for discharge has an almost unlimited discretion and in considering the application it is its duty to have regard to the interests of the creditors, the interests of the Public and Commercial morality, but at the same time if possible to free the Bankrupt from his burdens and give him again an opportunity of earning his living by Commercial undertakings and giving him an inducement to industry.

With regard to the first ground of opposition by the Official Receiver it is clear that the bankrupt will not be able to pay anything near 10s. in £ sterling.

With regard to the books a report by Mr. Turner, a Chartered Accountant in the firm of Mr. S. A. Seth the Trustee in Bankruptcy is put in, which states that although the correct set of books were kept nevertheless until after lengthy examination the entries were unintelligible. On examination of the books it appears in the opinion of Mr. Turner, Thompson was insolvent on June 30 1920.

Mr. Turner was also called and give evidence supporting his Report. Mr. Wilkinson, also a chartered accountant, was called on behalf of the Bankrupt and stated that the books were elaborately kept "perhaps too elaborately," that his Firm had audited the books since 1919 and considered that his books were kept above the average of bookkeeping in Shanghai. But agrees that they were "to a great extent unintelligible until necessary explanations had been given, and considers that it would take a month for an experienced accountant to get a result from the bankrupt's books."

Now the bookkeeping which the Courts require is very clearly laid down by Lord Esher M. R. in Ex parte Reed 1886. L. R. Vol 17 Q. B. D. p.254. "It is not enough that there should be books with entries in them which would require a prolonged examination by a skilled accountant in order to ascertain the results of them. This is not keeping proper books. The books should be properly kept and balanced from time to time so that at any moment the real state of the trader's affairs may at once appear. These are the books which Traders ought to keep.

The Bankrupt does not admit that he was insolvent in June 1920 and states that he is satisfied he was perfectly solvent up to October 1920. He states that his capital in June 1920 was Tls. 50,000. Now I fail to understand how he could have considered himself solvent in June 1920.

Messrs. Morrison & Co., in a letter dated May 1920, had put his position very clearly before him. They say that they have received his Balance Sheet but that it is not intelligible to them, but if they accept his statement that his Capital is at that time Tls. 50,000 (roughly £15,000) they point out that at that date, he certainly owes them half his Capital viz £6,000 due to them, plus £1,500 the loss on a shipment of Albumen, making a total of £7,500. Now it is difficult to understand how the bankrupt with knowledge of his other liabilities could fail to see that he was insolvent. He does go so far as to admit "It was a serious position, and I relied upon exchange going up."

And further his cable to Messrs. Morrison & Co., on June 11, 1920, ordering cancellation of goods if possible and ending "Do what you can to relieve the situation" shows that he was well aware of the seriousness of his position.

Mr. Birch of Messrs. Morrison & Co., who gave his evidence scrupulously fairly, states a large indirect loss would have been avoided if the Bankrupt would only have settled exchange in September or October 1920 There was an opportunity then to settle exchange 10 months forward.

Mr. Birch states he was continually pressing the bankrupt to do so, but he could not get him to do so, that he kept delaying one day saying he would and the next day that he would not, till the time arrived when it was not possible to do so.

I can come to no other conclusion than that he totally disregarded the interests of his creditors in [illegible] that the extra loss could not make his own position worse than it was, while if exchange went up he himself might just save his bankruptcy.

There is further no doubt, that in spite of his explanation for so doing, he did give undue preference to two of his creditors. When a man is on the eve of bankruptcy and must know his position, and Thompson must have known his position in January 1921, it is his duty not to interfere in any way between his creditors. As Lord Esher says in In re Skegg 1890 L. R. 25 Q. B. D. 509 "The only honest course for a man in such a position is not to interfere in any way between his creditors, so as to give any one of them a preference over the others."

He knows that if he is made bankrupt, his property will be shared equally by all his creditors."

There is also one other matter which I feel bound to refer to. Since the time he was adjudicated bankrupt he has not shown the slightest effort to repay his creditors any amount whatsoever. He has been receiving Tls. 400 a month which has recently been increased to Tls. 500 a month and his wife has some small private means. I cannot help thinking that the first thing he ought to have done would have been to reduce his expenditure to a minimum, giving up all forms of expense not absolutely necessary, in order that he might obtain some surplus however small with which to repay his creditors. But that he has clearly not done because as regards expenditure according to his own statements he has been living in much the same style as he did before he went bankrupt.

With regard to his not being able to pay 10s. in the £ sterling and continuing trading it is clearly laid down in innumerable cases. That a man has every right to continue trading in what at the time appears to be a business in which there is a chance of a severe loss so long as he is solvent. But directly he sees from his books of account that he has arrived at the state of affairs when he is unable to pay his creditors 20s. in the £ sterling; if he continues to carry on his business on the chance of further loss, he is doing so at the risk of his creditors. He may think that if he continues, it will be possible to retrieve his position and so save loss to himself and his creditors.

But it is his duty to call his creditors together (because it is they who will have to bear the extra loss if he continues) and place his affairs before them for their determination.

It has been urged that the bankrupt is a young man, but in my opinion that is an element which should have made him all the more careful. If he was young and inexperienced, so much the more reason for him to consult his creditors who in all probability would be older and more experienced men.

On going very carefully into all the points put before me, with much skill by Counsel, on behalf of the Bankrupt I can see no reason whatever for granting this application for discharge. The discharge from Bankruptcy applied for is therefore refused with costs.

The American Business And Financial Outlook

(A Review inclusive of September, issued by Irving National Bank, New York)

GOOD crops and a settlement of the strikes have given buoyancy to the third quarter of the year and in consequence prospects are bright for a good volume of trade during the coming season. With 600,000 coal miners and 400,000 railway shopmen back at work and the protracted struggle of the textile workers in New England at last ended, the industrial outlook is now better than at any time since the war. The outcome of the strike in the coal fields was due to the special nature of the business, to strict regulations of Illinois and Pennsylvania and some other states against engaging outside labor, and to the defection of some 40,000 non-union men in western Pennsylvania. Public exasperation was increasing as Winter drew nearer and signs multiplied that creeping paralysis was beginning to overcome business activities. The continued upward movement of security values recently was evidence that speculative opinion viewed the future with increasing confidence. In September, representative bonds and stocks touched new high levels for 1922.

The new Tariff measure in its present form provides for many very heavy increases over the rates now in effect, and, in the main, the Senate rates were adopted instead of the more moderate duties provided for in the House Bill. The foreign valuation basis, which has hitherto been the method of determining import values, is adhered to, but there is a flexible proviso which gives the President power to raise and lower rates on recommendation of the Tariff Commission. Inasmuch as the conferees struck out the time limit of July 1, 1924, there will be ample opportunity to test the actual working of the new system during the present Administration. To a certain extent, the power of tariff regulation is thus transferred from Congress to the White House and the Tariff Commission becomes a highly important administrative body. The duties now proposed are in many instances over 100 percent higher than those in the Underwood law and in several cases are above the Payne-Aldrich rates.

The value of imports in seven months this year has been $172,000,000 in excess of the total for the same period of 1921, a development possibly in anticipation of the new tariff. The growth of imports may also be interpreted as heralding forthcoming activity in domestic productivity. Imports of crude materials for use in manufacturing were $586,655,000 for the seven months ended July, 1922, compared with $497,207,000 for the corresponding period of 1921. Imports of manufactures for further use in manufacturing totaled $279,839,000 for the seven months of 1922 against $202,428,000 last year.

The U. S. Steel Corporation's twenty percent increase in the wages of common labor, or from 30 to 36 cents an hour, effective September 1, together with corresponding adjustments for other workers, was followed by a similar increase on the part of independents. The present schedule for common labor compares with about 19 cents an hour just before the war. The advance thus puts wages in this industry about 80 percent above the pre-war level. This action within the biggest open shop industry in the United States occurred while the railway and coal mining strikes were in full swing. The increase involves about 156,000 day laborers in the employ of the U. S. Steel Corporation. The new rates undoubtedly reflect greater competition for unskilled labor evidenced in several industries for the last two or three months. The facts mentioned are in part attributable to the law restricting immigration, since it is now impossible to recruit at will from this source.

August was the first month in the present year that industrial employment did not show an increase over the preceding month. On August 31, the 1,428 firms which report to the Department of Labor showed a total of 1,728,424 persons on the payrolls as compared with 1,729,805 the previous month. With this one exception, the August total was the largest since these reports began to be compiled in January, 1921.

The average weekly wages of factory workers in New York State decreased from $24.91 in June, the high point for the present year to $24.77 in July, contrasting with $12.70 in June, 1914. The mid-year decline did not indicate any cut in hourly rates of pay but merely reflected slowing up of manufacturing caused by fuel or transportation difficulties.

The average rents of wage earners' houses in the United States did not change between March and July, 1922. There were some small decreases yet the increases were more numerous than in preceding months and occurred in important industrial cities. Most communities showed no change. According to the National Industrial Conference Board, the average rents paid by wage earners were 65 percent higher in July, 1922, than at the outbreak of the war. The cost of living has remained virtually unchanged since February and is 56.6 percent higher than in July, 1914. In computing the index of living costs, the Board assumed that the average working family spends 43.1 percent of its budget for food, 17.7 percent for shelter, 13.2 percent for clothing, 5.6 percent for fuel and light, and 20.4 percent for sundries.

What Astronomers Can And Cannot Do

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
Eminent Astronomer and Authority On Subjects Of Scientific Interest

"Astronomers often give the weight of a certain planet or star, and they even mention that the atmosphere is lighter or denser than ours, and that it is made up of this gas or the other. How do they arrive at those conclusions and be so accurate when they are not even able to determine if life exists there?—M. A., New York."

The problems are very different. The weight of a planet, or rather the mass, to which weight is proportional, is determined by simple mathematical calculations based on unquestionable data. The method requires no assumptions, or guesses, but only careful observations to determine sizes, distances, motions, etc.

These basal facts once ascertained it is only necessary to apply the law of gravitation in order, so to speak, to balance a planet have one or more satellite against its planet.

The determination is much more accurate when the planet has a satellite, and all of the planets have one or more satellites, except Venus and Mercury. Suppose we take the planet Mars, which has two small satellites. We need consider only one of them, say the outermost. The equation used by the astronomer is as follows: The mass of the planet equals the mass of the sun (which we may call unity, or 1) multiplied by the cube of the satellite's distance from the planet divided by the square of the satellite's time of revolution around the planet, and this result again multiplied by the square of the time of the planet's revolution around the sun divided by the cube of the planet's distance from the sun.

If you take the respective distances and times from any textbook of astronomy, and work out this equation you will get, in round numbers, 1-3,000,000, which shows that Mars weighs about one three-millionth as much as the sun.

In the case of the two planets which are unattended by satellites —Mercury and Venus—this method does not apply, and then it is necessary to estimate the mass by considering the effect of the attraction exerted by the planet under examination upon the earth, or some other planet, or upon a comet which happens to pass comparatively near. This is the principal of "perturbations," i.e. of irregularities produced in the motion of a planet, or other heavenly body, revolving around a center of attraction, by the interfering attraction of a third body.

The application of this principle requires some of the most difficult work done in astronomy. But the fact that it gives reliable results provided that the observations on which the data are based have been accurately made, indicates the exquisite refinement of the astronomer's methods and operations.

Applied once, in the case of a planet suspected to exist, although no one with telescopes had been able to find it, this method led directly to the desired discovery. The reference is to the discovery of Neptune through the perturbations that its attractions produced upon Uranus.

The conclusion of astronomers concerning the atmospheres of the planets are based upon visual observations aided by the spectroscope. When a planet has an atmosphere, as all of them do, unless possibly Mercury should be excepted, its existence can be detected by means of various telescopic appearances.

In the case of Venus, which at certain long separated intervals passes directly over the sun's disk as seen from the earth, the atmosphere appears as a brilliant illuminated circle surrounding the planet as it moves over the sun's edge. Even when the planet does not pass directly over the solar disk, but merely goes close to it, as happens about once in two years, careful observation shows the luminous circle formed around it by its atmosphere reflecting the sunlight.

The density of this atmosphere is inferred, with more or less probability, from its effect upon the solar rays, and from the gravitative force of the planet; but astronomers do not profess to know its density with complete certainty. The spectroscope shows the existence of vapor in the planetary atmospheres, and indications of absorbing gases, but these things are still open to further investigation, and cannot be called settled facts. They are more or less strong probabilities.

When we come to the question of the existence of inhabitants on any of the planets beyond the earth we are in a field of almost pure conjecture. Mathematics does not help us here. There are no equations, firmly founded on facts and leading to certain conclusions. We are not even certain from any direct evidence that vegetation, let alone animal life exists on any body in the solar system except the earth. The probability seems very strong that both kingdoms of life are represented on one or more of the planets, but the proof is not yet forthcoming.

Clara Morris Would Like To See Right Use Of Right Words

BY CLARA MORRIS

Saith the poet:

The fashion wears out more apparel
Than does the man.

In these days of importations galore, some harassed fathers declare the fashion is almost worn out before the apparel reaches us. However, there are fashions in other things than clothes to fret or to amuse us—for instance words, their use or abuse. Even in this the poet has to have his say. Hear him:

In words, as fashions, the same rule will hold,
Alike fantastic if too new, or old.

This brings us up against our fantastic trick of forcing some special word into unnatural prominence by overwork and such endless iteration that it seems to be on the lips of every one and stares out at us from each letter we receive.

Why do we ignore Coleridge's definitions of prose and poetry? Prose, in Colesidge's definition, being "Words in their best order;" poetry, "Best words in their best order."

Our idea of the best word seems to be the word that has the biggest run at the moment.

Right now we're taking a heavy dose of "countered." No one answers, no one responds or replies; every one "counters." "'And with it all my love,' he countered," I read the other day. As "counter" means to return one blow for another, I suppose the quoted line was a love tap! I am hoping that political matters will smother "countered" before election ceases from troubling.

Years ago three words came to be New York's nightmare, and "the well known" had the longest run of any of our boosted phrases.

It was applied to streets, buildings, boats, schools, books, stores and to people, until one almost sank beneath the weight of repetition. Then at last, in one of New York's greatest newspapers, two items were printed—side by side, mind you. One read:

"The well known young Duchess of X, the daughter of Mr. ——, the well known American railroad maguate, is expected to reach this city on ——," etc.

Said the other:

"Mike McGuire, the well known East Side fish dealer, had a funeral display in his honor that equalled anything that Chinatown ever worked up," etc.

It proved the pin prick which let the gas out of "the well known" balloon. After the laughter we were free from that overworked phrase.

Yet over-use is not as bad as the misuse of a word.

Consider the abuse of the word "unique" How one can be more or less unique is a mystery to me! You are, or you are not—since for anything to be unique is to be the only one of its kind. Yet in one of our greatest journals I recently read: "She really is rather unique." A clipping beside me concerning a foreign vaudeville actor reads: "He is even more uniquely unique than before."

Mercy to goodness! In the slang of the day. "How do they get away with it?"

The only failure I ever rejoiced over was the unsuccessful attempt to force that word intrigue—ugly in sound and ugly in meaning—into the high light of popularity. When a writer said the girls of a certain school were "absolutely intrigued by the principal," and the ad of a great department store stated that the silk lingerie was "more intriguingly fascinating than ever before," the public laughed, and that ended the career of that ugly word.

"Quizzing" had something of a run, and it, too, was misused. Even a child feels the meaning of the word is chaffing making fun of, and to read that "the witness in a murder trial was 'quizzed' by the lawyers," gives one mental goose flesh.

One may smile at Job's words, "My desire is that mine adversary had written a book"—the boils must have been extra bad that day to account for such a wish—and elsewhere he declares: "How forcible are 'right' words."

Come, let us form a society for the prevention of cruelty to words—and the encouragement of the right use of the "right" words.

The Week's Market Report

COTTON

In their weekly report on the Shanghai Cotton market, Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld and Son write as follows:

China Cotton.—The market has again been active during the past week, with violent fluctuations, causing considerable nervousness throughout the world cotton markets. The steady undertone during the early part of the week brought about an over-sold condition from which we had a sharp reaction, started primarily by the sharp advances both in Mid-Americans and Indians, in consequence of which our market responded in sympathy; the movement was rendered more vigorous by the covering of shorts, together with the continued small movement of commitments from the interior marts and a good demand from local spinners and exportors.

Mid-Americans have advanced for the week 130 points for spot and over 100 points for futures. Broach in sympathy with the rise in Mid-Americans have advanced 10 Rps. per candy within the last 24 hours, the market closing with a firm undertone.

It is unnecessary to look for any more potent cause for the abnormal strength than the healthy condition of the world markets, and it is rather a matter of comment that the week's sensational developments have not been more far-reaching in their effect upon the staple.

Under the circumstances, we believe with the outlook at present, the chances for successful operations still lie on the bull side. So that if some temporary weakness should develop in the speculative markets, we could only advise our friends to take advantage of such moments to buy.

Yarn.—Nothing bearish has come to light since our last report was issued. Our market continues steady with a feeling of assurance that no weakness is likely to develop in this direction for some time to come. Over 10,000 bales new orders being booked direct with the mills and some 5,000 bales were sold second-hand at prevailing prices for export to Szechuen, Tientsin, Canton, Kiangse, Newchwang, Swatow, Hankow, Wuhu and Tsingtao.

SPUNTS REPORT

Messrs. J. Spunt and Company state as follows in their report on the cotton market:

China Cotton:—The receipts from the interor marts during the past week were much lower than that recorded during the previous period and all arrivals were met with quick adsorption by those whose deliveries are about to be due. Prices fluctuated within a narrow range and may be said to be steady to firm at the close. The demand on the part of spinners continues to be negligible due to the slow progress now being experienced in the Yarn situation.

The steady rise in Mid-Americans with which the Indian Markets generally move in close sympathy appear at this time to be making an impression on the minds of holders in the interior and as their financial status shows sufficient strength, there are signs of an incipient movement toward withholding the necessary fibre, to be released as and when better rates for same are more readily available than those prevalent at the present time.

In view of the foregoing therefore, the probabilities tend to indicate higher rates and particularly so should the expectant greater demand for yarn materialise in the interim. Tone of the market. Steady.

N. B.—We beg to announce that Mr. J. Spunt is a member of the New York Cotton Exchange having been duly elected to membership therein on August 7, 1922.

METAL

Another week has come round but it has witnessed nothing of an appreciable nature in the metals market of Shanghai. In fact the market is practically dead, and where in the previous week we recorded a little demand from Harbin and Hankow, this week there has been a further retrogression.

True there has been a few enquiries for tubes, galvanised sheets and smaller enquiries for wire nails, these have not sent the local metals merchants into ecstacy.

The dullness in the metals trade is not only confined to the market in Shanghai but is also prevalent in Hongkong and Japan. With regard to Japan the purchases that are now and again being made in the United States are mostly on Government account. The Japanese are doing some buying on the Continent of Europe of light gage black sheets. Purchases of rails are still about the most important of any business that goes from the Far East to the United States. On a recent tender issued by a municipality in Japan calling for 27 miles of 60-lb. rails, a bid of 524 francs (Belgium) c.i.f. Kobe was submitted by a Belgian mill and £9 2s. 6d. per ton, which was later reduced to £9 by the Krupp Works in Germany. The Belgian delivery was about 16 weeks against a promised shipment by Germany in 12 to 14 weeks. The business is not yet reported as placed.

The metals market in all parts of China is dull, the little buying evidently being done in European markets and not in the United States because of lower prices. An annual enquiry for two million No. 26 gage black sheets was secured by London at £16 6s. while the American offer was higher, the price including insurance and freight to Tientsin. No great improvement in the China market can be expected until the political situation clarifies and becomes more stable.

There is some interest in pipes in the Shanghai market. Although inquiries for standard American brands of black sheets continue to appear, no sales are noted. There is a little enquiry for copper, and supplies of this have been coming recently from Japan.

America is buying Continental pig iron, and it is the only commodity that seems to be imported into the United States at present in quantities. There is some revival of demand for Japanese specifications of black sheets on the English market, but bids generally are considered too low.

The London Metals Exchange appears to be hardening in many sections. Prices are higher in many lines than last week. Some of the latest quotations are:

Standard Copper, £63⅛ for spot from £62½ last week.

Tin, £174⅜ against £173¼.

Lead, £26½ against £25½ for spot and £25¼ against £24¾ future.

Electrolytic Copper, £70¼ for spot and £74¾ future.

Spelter, £36⅛ against £35⅞ for spot and £34¾ future.

PIECE-GOODS

MARKET: In spite of firmer Cotton and Manchester advices we find dealers anxious not to miss any Trade enquiry, provided offers are fairly reasonable and the losses, which they look upon as inevitable, do not deter them from making sales of White Shirtings whenever possible. Yangtsze districts beyond Hankow are more inclined to raise limits; they have taken further supplies of Medium qualities and there is also an enquiry for Best qualities, but offers for the latter seldom attract either Dealers or Importers. The general tone of the Market has certainly improved and we hear of replacements of goods such as Figured Poplins and Imitation Venetians.

AUCTIONS: The early sales fared better than Yuen Fong, at which sale prices—particularly for White Shirtings—showed an easier tendency. We understand this, to some extent, is due to increased quantities.

AT KUNG PING on Tuesday 3[illegible] pkgs. were sold and prices may be considered on the average practically unchanged. Brokers had a fair sprinkling of Trade orders to fill from Yangtsze Ports and Tsingtau, but there is still little inclination to buy speculatively and this lack of confidence prevents the very necessary price advances.

HOME MARKET: Liverpool quotations for American Cotton are sharply advanced and Egyptian is also firmer. Manchester has turned down many cloth offers in consequence and Makers generally present a more independent front. Prices asked are roughly 2½-5 percent higher and this must check forward buying, unless Exchange turns much steadier.

PONGEE SILK

The China Merchants Pongee Association have received the following report from their Chefoo head office on the pongee silk market:

The feature of the week has been a good enquiry from America but little business was done as present prices are apparently too high for American importers to place their season orders.

Unfortunately the Tussah market continues to be very strong and under the circumstances declines in the prices of pongee silks cannot be expected.

HAIRNET

Messrs. Yannoulatos Bros. (China) have received the following report from their Chefoo head office on the hairnet market:

The buying of Double mesh capnets has suddenly stopped—to a great extent—early this week and prices have reduced a few points.

Supplies are also becoming more regular and the market closes this noon quiet and easy.

HONGKONG SHARES

Messrs. Moxon and Taylor of Hongkong write as follows in their weekly report on the share market dated Hongkong, October 20:

We have again had a very active market during the week under review, and although the majority of the transactions has been for cash, still there has been a good amount of forward business.

The Shanghai market has been fairly steady with a fair amount of business passing.

Rubber continues firm with buyers prevailing.

The following are the principal alterations since last week:

Hongkong Banks:—Have been in good demand and close firm with buyers at $960.

Unions:—Have had a considerable rise during the week and were done as high as $235.

Hongkong Lands:—Are rather easier with buyers at $244.

Hongkong Fires:—Are enquired for $425.

Hongkong Hotels:—Have been in strong demand and close firm with buyers at $26½ Old and $12½ New.

Dairy Farms:—Have been the medium of considerable business at rising prices and close with buyers at $24½.

Hongkong Wharves:—Are very firm with buyers at $179½ asked, sales at $180.

Hongkong Docks:—Are very firm with buyers at $139.

China Providents:—Have been up and down and close rather easier with buyers at $24.

Douglases:—Have had a sharp rise and are wanted at $58.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies.

Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in ivilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, In the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefully and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

October 27, 1922

Spot bar silver was down ¼d. and forward 7-16d. in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 67⅛ cents and London-New York cross rate improved to 444½.

The only change in our official quotations here today was a rise in the Franc rate to 1060. Our market in the early part of the morning was inclined to be easy with speculators buyers.

They bought a fair amount of Sterling at 3-3⅝ for November-December delivery and of Gold Dollars at 73½.

Banks, however, were generally good sellers at these rates and the market firmed up and in the afternoon became quite strong with speculators selling Sterling as high as 3s. 4d. for December-January delivery and Gold Dollars at 74¼. At the close there were probably more buyers than sellers at these rates.

There were sellers of Yen at the close at 65¼ for December delivery and buyers at 65⅛.

Banks were quoting 3s. 4⅝d. for Sterling bills, 75¼ for Gold Dollar bills and 1110 for Franc bills.

China sold silver in London yesterday and India bought, the market being reported as closing uncertain. New York report their market as weak with sellers at the official quotation.
